

CURRICULUM RESEARCH

The professional advancement of an educational institution depends, to a significant degree, upon the proper application of research findings. Improvements both of management and instructional functions require knowledge of prior and current research studies and of their implications for teaching and learning.

It is the policy of the Board to encourage a spirit of inquiry, investigation, and to urge the application of all appropriate research findings to instructional and managerial processes. The superintendent, therefore, is authorized to assign approved curriculum studies during summer months when desirable.

Services provided should make it possible for the Board and the superintendent to examine problems and plans in the light of the most current research, to guide the professional problems, and to establish and maintain liaison with other agencies, institutions, and organizations engaged in research studies of significance to the district.
