

I grew up in Ogunquit until I was 10, then moved to Gardiner in 1980, where I graduated high school in 1989. I spent several years traveling and lived in Germany for a little while before I attended New England College (in NH) and graduated in 1998 with a quadruple degree (all art related). I married in 2000 and we had a daughter, Colleen, the following year. I started working for the State of Maine in 1999, and currently work at the Department of Agriculture, Conservation & Forestry, Bureau of Parks & Lands. Unfortunately, my husband lost a short battle with cancer in late 2013. So now it's just Colleen and me, along with our big, fluffy, uber-friendly golden retriever, Gus!
